

From the President

What I would like to say is a sensitive issue to some and a disturbing one to others.

Last year, the general consensus was that dogs of any size should not be allowed in the building. In the original House Rules from the offering book, it states that no animal of any type is permitted without the permission of the Park Lane Board. In the revised version the Board adapted, it really only mentions dogs.

Now every time a new owner or renter moves in with a dog we get the same response. "Oh I was told it was allowed". Currently, it is not allowed. Regardless of what a realtor will tell you, or someone anxious to sell or rent, it is not allowed.

The dogs that are currently in the building got in when the board was first establishing themselves or since then by a "too bad" kind of attitude, "this is my dog, and that is that".

This is not only unfair to the other people in the building who abide by the rules, as we all have to live together, but it has also put the Board in a bad position.

We have tried to maintain a happy, friendly environment for all. We do not want to fine people, or proceed with legal action, but we no longer have a choice. Majority rules in our building and this sometimes annoys people who feel differently. We are sorry about that, but we have a duty to uphold the rules.

Going forward the Board will do whatever is necessary to prevent this issue from continuing. Please advise your realtors, your new buyers or renters accordingly.

Thanking you all for your cooperation...
